Regent court is being redesigned as late-night food quarter. A town council meeting was held not so long ago, the plan is going to become reality in the near future, but some people do not agree with such changes. Now we are going to find out, whether these changes are for the better or for the worse.

Firstly, food quarter can be a useful place, especially at night, when the majority of shops in our town are closed and the cafes do not serve anyone. Secondly, this change gives the opportunity to small businesses to develop and rise, some people might get a job and start earning money.

However, as it was mentioned earlier, people living there are protesting against this redesign. It is quite understandable, because almost everybody sleeps at night and probably does not want to hear any noises coming from the street in the middle of their sleep.

Creating a late-night food quarter instead of Regent court is quite a good idea, although everything has disadvantages. It is obviously clear that some people will not accept the changes, but the redesign is for the better, counting all the advantages and disadvantages.

I suppose the council will not change their mind. The quarter will be built in the near future, but the council should compensate people for ruining their comfort.
